FIREMEN HELD 25TH BANQUET

vice to the Town is Celebrated by Firemen in their Annual Banquet. The Speeches.

The twenty fifth anniversary of Gettysburg Steam Fire Engine Company Number One was celebrated on Wednesday evening in the rooms of Battlefield Council 717 Order of Independent Americans with a banquet

The affair which was one of the most successful which has been held by the local fire department was atthe town council and Burgess Holtzworth.

Preceding the banquet there were ment in the general character of the firemen of today as contrasted with those of twenty five years ago. Mr. Tipton characterized the local company location as 'a body of business men of charorchestra played during the evening. new property. Several tables were served, those who were not banqueting being entertained in the large hall of the Independent Americans.

The banquet was served by a number of young ladies and members of the company. It was one of the best suppers which has ever been provided Imp for the annual feast of the firemen and was greatly enjoyed.

The committee in charge were Eclair Comedy Maurice A. Miller, J. C. Wierman, E. P. Wisotzkey, J. A. Menchey, Frank Deardorff, Frank Slonaker and Robert Long.

The birthright of every man, woman and child—a full healthy head of hair. If your hair is falling, if it is full of dandruff, or if it is faded or turning gray, it is diseased and should be looked after without delay.

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY, a true Hair Tonic and Restorer, removes dandruff in a few days, stops hair falling in one week, and starts a new growth in a month.

Does not soil the skin nor injure the hair: but it is an ideal hair dressing that will restore faded and gray hair to natural color and keep the hair soft and glossy.

DEATH CHAIR IN

Measure to Increase Judges' Salaries Recommitted In House-Many New Bills Presented.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 26.-Represen tative John F. L. Morris, of Philadelphia, introduced in the house a bill to substitute the electric chair for the gallows and the hangman's noose in the execution of death sentences in Pennsylvania.

The bill carries with it an appropriation of $20,000 and provides that the death penalty shall be inflicted only "within the walls or yards" of the eastern penitentiary, in Philadelphia, and the western penitentiary, in Allegheny county.

Still another provision in the bill requires that notice that the death penalty has been carried out shall be published in three newspapers, one published in Philadelphia, one in Pittsburg and one in the county in which the convict has been sentenced. The Johnson bill to increase the salaries of the judges of the various courts was recommitted to the house and there is a probability that it will

to the fact that it will increase state expenditures about $450,000. When withdrawn it was stated that it was to be amended. It will not reappear until other appropriation bills are reported out and must take its chances.

Representative Daniel J. Shern had FIVE a conference with Governor Tener which is believed to have resulted in the withdrawal of the bill. The fact that Representative Bentley, of Washington county, the governor's home county, made the motion to recommit is regarded as significant.

West Virginia Elects Senator Despite Bribery Charges-Martine Elected New Jersey.

Dover, Del., Jan. 26.—There was not an anti-Dupont leader present in the Delaware legislature when the thirtyone Republican members all voted for the powder manufacturer, who will now go to Washington to enter upon his first full term senatorship. The vote was: Dupont, 31; Saulsbury, 21.

The real thrills of the joint session in its work of electing Dupont were caused when Fisher, Democrat, voted for Dupont, and when Drexler arose and changed his vote and Senator Walls, Democrat, objected. Drexler

"Mr. President-In view of the fact Henry A. Dupont has received the votes of all the Republican members, I desire to change my vote from Robert G. Houston to Henry A. Dupont, thereby giving him the unanimous

The applause for Drexler was so long and heavy that Senator Walls. who was standing, could not be heard and he sat down after getting a nod from President Monaghan, his Democratic colleague.

"Mr. President," said Mr. Walls, "I rise to object to the acceptance or recording of the motion or statement just made by the senator from Sussex before this vote is announced. He said 'the unanimous vote,' and I ob-

President Monaghan, in declaring Henry A. Dupont elected, said Senator Walls had made a timely motion, and the result showed: "Dupont, 31; Saulsbury, 21."

Owing to the excitement of the voting, Representative Andrew L. Fisher, Democrat, who was keeping tally, voted by mistake for Dupont. The Dupont men almost shouted, and the uproar prevented Mr. Fisher from be ing heard in his appeal to have his COTTON UNION name called again.

WEST VIRGINIA SENATORS

Chilton and Watson Elected While Bribery Cry Is Raised.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 26.-William E. Chilton and Clarence Watson were chosen by the Democrats of the

The vacancies were caused by the expiration of Senator N. B. Scott's term of office and the death of Senator Stephen B. Elkins.

Chaotic conditions confronted the Democrats, the twenty-three Republicans in the lower house having withdrawn just before the balloting started. There were on the clerk's desk piles of documentary evidence relating to charges of corruption, the exhibits including money that was alleged to have passed between the lot. Chilton received 71 votes on the call for the long term, this number being 13 in excess of a majority of the entire legislature. For the short term Watson received 70 votes.

Rumors are already heard that Governor Glasscock will make good his threat to refuse commissions to the new senators, holding their election

New Jersey Elects Martine.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 26.-James E. Martine, of Plainfield, was elected as United States senator in joint session of the legislature to succeed John Kean. Martine received 47 of the 51 Democratic votes, or six more than a majority of the two houses. Three votes were cast for ex-Senator Smith and one of the Democratic members did not vote. Ex-Governor Stokes received a majority of the Republican votes, 21 out of 30 being cast for him. Seven of the ten members who voted for Smith took advantage of his releasing them and voted for Martine, The three who remained loyal to Smith were Assemblymen McGowan, Phillips and Shalvey, all of Essex, Smith's home county.

The convicted men are: James Byrnes, former president of the council and at present state labor com missioner of Louisiana; Philip Pearsaw, former president of the local Coal Wheelers' union, and U. S. Swan, former president of the Longshoremen's union.

LANDIS' NEW RECORD

Fixes Surety Bond at $1,100,000 Instead of Usual $200.

Chicago, Jan. 26.-Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, who already held the rec ord for having imposed the heaviest fine known-the Standard Oil fine of $29,000,000-set a new mark in the mater of appeal bonds, when he fixed the surety of $1,100,000 in the petition of John A. Lewis, named by John Alexander Dowie as successor and heir to the Zion City estate.

The bond is the highest known in the history of the federal courts. The usual bond is $200.

Probing Paper Trust.

Washington, Jan. 26.-The department of justice is investigating the American Paper and Pulp association with a view of ascertaining if that concern has violated the Sherman anti-trust law. It was said that this investigation has ben going on for some time in several parts of the country. The report of the investigators is now almost complete.

will continue until the close of January 25th. We begin taking stock in that department on the next day.

The argument is--the lower the stock, and the more cash the department can show at the close of the year, the healthier the conditions.

Of course we could not do business without profit all the year-but we can make it pay to have these Clearance Sales at a loss of profit several times a year, thus being able to stock up in NEW FRESH Goods that will sell at a profit.

As our stock is a very large one-there are still Rich Pickings of the lines advertised earlier in the week

While the manure from an average dairy cow is worth from $18 to $32 a year, provided the manure is used so as to realize its maximum value, this fact should not encourage any dairyman in the keeping of animals which are little more than manure depositors. Better by all odds get cows which will make just as much fertilizer and at the same time give a return in milk and cream which will leave a good margin of profit on hand after their feed bill has been paid.

While the curiew law has much to commend it from the standpoint of practical results, it is a woefully inadequate community substitute for individual parental interest, solicitude and responsibility. Parents who care a continental for their children-boys or girls-will keep them from gadding the streets at night, and they will not need a fown bell or gong to remind them of their duty. Parents who haven't cared a continental would better turn over a new leaf and try to give their homes sufficient interest so that their children will prefer to stay at home rather than spend their time elsewhere.

As the silo comes more and more into use in the corn belt primarily for the purpose of providing a succulent ration for the dairy cows an increased interest is being taken in the use of silage as a fattening ration for feeding animals, particularly beeves. If good clover or alfalfa bay is available it will serve to balance the silage and corn which are fed. If not to be had the protein element should be provided in the shape of oil or cottonseed meal, which should be gradually increased in amount until a mature ani mal is getting about two and a half pounds per day. Silage fed steers fetch just as much as dry fed animals notwithstanding the claim sometimes made that their flesh is not quite so

Dick Ainsworth, a young American with a rich and indulgent father, spent much of his time abroad, Paris being his favorite place of residence. He was a frequent visitor at the opera and the theaters. Indeed, they were his world. One night on the stage of the Opera Comique he saw his fate. One of the singers, Mile. Clochette Verdier, was the impersonation of modesty, of decorum, of all that is gentle and fem-

Ainsworth requested a theatrical friend to take him behind the scenes and introduce him to the lady. This was duly granted, and Ainsworth found Mile. Verdier the same shy, unassuming creature she was on the stage. She was rather petite and dressed off-and usually on-the stage in very simple attire, her hair especially being plainly done. When Ainsworth looked at her admiringly her eyes dropped to the floor and she stood before him a living statue of inno-ing which Ainsworth gave Mlle. Verdier all of his time that she was able to spare of her own to be with him, he found himself desperately in love with her and made her a proposal of marriage. It was accepted, and Ainsworth was inordinately happy. He told his fiancee that it would not be necessary for her to remain on the Wis., George Folk, street commissionstage—that his father was a very rich er, carefully studied the various meth-

This last part of his father's letter was the only part of it that interfered with Dick's comfort. He was very much in love and desired to be made happy at once. It troubled him that his dear, modest little Clochette should continue to be the target for the eves of the young bloods of Paris. He would gladly have had her leave it at once, but she declined to do so until they were married. So Dick was forced to wait till his father could come over and all should be settled.

At last be received the welcome news that Mr. Ainsworth would sail on a certain date and go direct to Paris on his arrival at Havre. Dick waited for the day of arrival feverishly. He had no doubt of his father's approval of his ladylove. Such unaf fected sweetness would charm any man. Besides, Dick knew that his father had a keen insight into character, especially of women. He would at once recognize Clochette's moral worth -would see how different she was from many women on the stage.

On the day of his father's expected arrival Dick received a telegram from him inviting his son to sup with him clean the center of the street and to at a cafe on the Champs Elysees. WHAT IS CIVIC BEAUTY?

What is civic beauty? Not fine streets, parks, fountains and public buildings. "Handsome is as handsome does" also applies to a town. If a town be full of lawlessness, racket, noises, bickering, scandal, contention, it is not the town beautiful-it is the town ugly. Order is heaven's first law everywhere, and a town is no exception. Letting things go helter skelter is a losing business. Let a man deface his own property and it depreciates all property. Let the town do an fil piece of work or permit another to do it and the welfare of the whole community is weakened. Civic life is the main thing. It is for that fine streets and structures are encouraged. The true civic life implies things that are positive-purity, honor, cleanliness, decency, order, quiet. Behavior is the first thing a town needs to take care of if it wants to guard its own honor or welfare. Respectability is not in money, houses nor lands-it is in conduct, and right conduct is a utility, an advantage to a community. When that is not rightly prized a community is very unfortunate.
